"Oh, poor sinner, here to-day, will you not yield to the Good Shepherd? will you not stand still as he draws near? Will you not submit to his mighty embrace? Know that your rescue from sin and death must be of him and him alone. Breathe a prayer to him, - "Come, Lord, I wait for thy salvation! Save me, for I trust in thee." If thou dost thus pray, thou hast the mark upon thee of Christ's sheep, for he saith, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me." Come to him, for he comes to you. Look to him, for he looks to you."

Portion of Sermon by C.H.Spurgeon 1884

The Rector's Corner

Born in Gagetown, N.B., Samuel Tilley was not only a man of passionate prayer but also of passionate action. One day, an eleven-year old girl ran to him for help after her drunken father brutally stabbed her mother to death. Because of this tragedy, Tilley went from being a quiet pharmacist in Saint John, to becoming the Premier of New Brunswick (1861-65) in his campaign for alcohol reform.

A father of Confederation, and twice the Lieutenant Governor of our province (1873-78, 1885-93), Sir Samuel Leonard Tilley rose each morning to start his day with prayer and Scripture reading. He had come to a personal knowledge of Jesus Christ in 1839 (at the age of 21 years) through his Rector, the Reverend William Harrison. His life was dramatically transformed, and he became active in his local church as both a Sunday School teacher and a Church warden. Tilley's son, Harrison, named by Tilley for the man who had led him to faith, became a well-known Anglican priest.

In September of 1864, as the Fathers of Confederation gathered in Charlottetown to discuss and draft the terms of the British North America Act, there were many suggestions on what to call a "United Canada". On one particular morning during the conference, during his morning devotion, Tilley had read Psalm 72, and verse eight stood out for him:

"He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth."

With this Word, Tilley became convinced that Canada should be a nation under God, and he presented 'Dominion of Canada' to the others at the conference. There were a number of competing names: 'The United Colony of Canada'; 'The United Provinces of Canada'; 'The Federated Provinces of Canada'; 'The Republic of Canada'; 'The Realm of Canada'; 'The Union of Canada'; and 'The Kingdom of Canada' – Sir John A. MacDonald's favourite.

Today the following words hang in the corridor near the Confederation Chamber in the PEI Province House:

In the hearts of the delegates who assembled in this room on September 1, 1864, was born the Dominion of Canada. Providence being their guide, they builded better than they knew.

The name 'Dominion' was formalized in 1867. The letter that established Canada's name to Queen Victoria is signed by Sir John A. MacDonald, who explained to her Majesty that 'Dominion of Canada' was a "tribute to the principles they earnestly desired to uphold". This Dominion motto was even placed in Latin on our Canadian Coat of Arms: A Mari Usque Ad Mare (from sea to sea).

As we scratch below the surface, everywhere we look, we find a deep Godly heritage in Canada's history. Jesus is the Lord of Canada, in a way which, if recognized, can transform even dark corners of our land into beacons of light.

Wake up Canada! Come alive, Canada! Claim your inheritance before it is too late. Repent from your self-absorption, and He will have mercy upon you and on your children's children. Let us not be found wanting. (from Battle for the Soul of Canada, by the Rev. Ed Hird, 2006)
